DETAILED ACTION

Receipt is acknowledged of the amendment filed 03/20/2012.

Maintained Rejection(s)

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the “right to exclude” granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 1-6 13-24 are rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-12 of U.S. Patent No. 6,737,447 (US'447). Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because US'447 claims a polymeric coating on a medical device which reacts reversibly with nitric oxide, a nitric oxide prodrug; and a second fiber component, where in the second fiber functions to sequester said prodrug. While the structure of the US'447 patent differs in that bisepoxide crosslinking occurs, this crosslinking functions to slow the progress of activators into the coating. And as a result, those of ordinary skill would have expected a slowing or delay in the activation of the nitric acid precursor just as in the instant case. While a different mechanism is used to slow and delay its progress, it is noted that the same polyethyleneimine, diazeniumdiolate and activators are used since the device is presented in a biological environment which is aqueous. As such, the instant invention would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of invention given the claims of US'447.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 03/20/2012 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Applicant deleted the term "component" of the claims, believing that this was the basis of the rejection under obviousness-type double patenting. However, this is not the case.

Broadly interpreted, the second fiber could encompass the cross-linked embodiment. Applicant appears to contemplate this under the broad definition of "second fibers" which begins at page 9 of the instant specification. More specifically, at page 10 polyurethane reacted with polyethyleneimine (PEI) containing diazeniumdiolate functional groups are recited as a second fiber and corresponds to the limitation of claim 12 in US'447. Therefore, applicant's argument that the crosslinking does not use the same mechanism are without merit, since the same structural feature is provided. This same structural feature would appear sequester the prodrug in the same manner and due to the above structural features.

For these reasons, it was suggested that applicant close the claim language to "consisting of" and specifically exclude crosslinking as a possible second fiber.

The rejection under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting is hereby maintained.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
